

South Viet Nam Tension Zooms

SAIGON, South Viet Nam—Tension rose in Saigon today as the nation's gravest crisis appeared to be looming in the wake of strained United States-Vietnamese relations.

Secret Police Chief Ngo Dinh Nhu virtually controls the government now although his elder brother, President Ngo Dinh Diem, still remains in office and gives the appearance of being in control of his palace.

Although the government is taking steps outwardly to relax the martial law because of the past week by releasing some students and making a feeling of the political situation was moving towards a crisis.

Saigon was full of rumors that a coup d'etat was imminent. Speculation mainly centres on the possibility that military officers may attempt to overthrow President Diem and his chief adviser, Nhu, to avert a further rift with the United States.

REDS QUIET
(However, The Associated Press reported from Saigon today that there was no sign of any movement capable of overthrowing the Diem government. The report said even the Communist Viet Cong has been relatively quiet throughout the recent clashes between government forces and Buddhists demonstrating against the Roman Catholic president.)

It added that all signs indicate Diem and Nhu are at the helm and high-ranking military officers, most of them, have picked, never veered in their allegiance.

Federal Probe Planned In Utah Mine Disaster

MOAB, Utah (AP)—A joint federal-state investigation will start Monday of the mine explosion that killed 18 of 25 miners, including some Canadians.

The investigation was announced Thursday night by Casper A. Nelson, safety inspector for the Utah Industrial Commission. He was asked by reporters about a bureau of mines statement that three of four previous fatalities at the mine were preventable.

"I don't believe I'll comment on that, but I don't buy it," he said.

He said some of the 18 victims of the mine apparently were killed instantly by the blast and that others died later of carbon monoxide poisoning. The bodies of three men were found with their heads in a ventilation pipe, apparently in a pathetic effort to get air.

RAPS LAXNESS

Interior Secretary Stewart Udall issued a statement in Washington Wednesday criticizing laxness of safety practices in some parts of the mining industry, with specific reference to the Moab disaster. He said he had been informed "that the contractors were warned of the severe dangers only three weeks ago when methane gas was ignited while workers were drilling rock bolt holes" in the drift where the explosion occurred.

The first two survivors out of the mine also spoke of lax safety precautions but their statements were rejected by Frank Tippie, general manager of the Texas Gulf Sulphur Company mine.

Tippie said that bodies of the 18 victims were so disfigured that identification will be difficult.

"We have asked the sheriff's office not to permit families to view the bodies until identification is certain," he said. "The FBI is being asked to help."

HAD WATER, AIR

Wylie Brooks, the general mine foreman, said the five rescued Thursday night had water from a drill line and a good air supply since restoration of a line Wednesday night.

"Those were the two essentials to their survival," he said. "We have been criticized for not rushing down to those five. But we found the carbon monoxide concentration so strong in the tunnels we couldn't risk it. We had the safety of the rescuers to consider."

Strachan Medicare Figure "Nowhere Near Realistic"

VANCOUVER (CP)—A spokesman for British Columbia doctors said today a figure of $50,000,000 is "nowhere near realistic" as a cost estimate for a provincial medical care plan. The price tag was used Thursday by Robert Strachan, leader of the New Democratic Party in B.C., in discussing a major plank in the NDP's provincial election campaign.

The spokesman, representing the B.C. Medical Association, said doctors believe a true estimate would be closer to $100,000,000.

But he said B.C. doctors will not get into a political fight over medical care approaching the experience in Saskatchewan.

USE PRESENT INCOME

Mr. Strachan said the NDP could finance $10,000,000 a year for drugs and ambulances, and $40,000,000 for medical services, out of existing revenues.

A spokesman for Medical Association, B.C.'s largest pre-paid medical insurance plan, also challenged the estimate.

"If doctors are going to be paid in accordance with present fees and existing patterns of practice, and if there are no strings, this estimate is far too low," he said.

Both the NDP and the doctors said they based their costs largely on the MSA per person annual expense of $28.

Walter Young, a lecturer at the University of B.C. who helped draw up the NDP plan, said they took a rough mean between the Social Assistance Medical Service figure of $24, and Saskatchewan's $20.

SIGN WORKS LIKE CLOCKWORK

We don't know if King Arthur's barber's pole ever turned but this barber pole, being wound up by Al Teisman, seems to do the trick sufficiently. The pole, probably the only one of its kind in Kelowna, has been getting its daily crank from Al every day for 27 years, and he got it second hand. The pole has a more outstanding effect than the newer, smaller models more popular with barbers today. The pole has a large clock spring inside it that keeps it going round.—(Courier Photo)

MIGHT AS WELL CALL IT A DAY

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—John Gordon decided to call it quits as a motorist Thursday after, police said, he ran a red light and hit a parked car, continued on and hit another, then turned the wrong way on a one-way street.

"I guess I'm getting too old to get around in this kind of traffic," Gordon said.

On Gordon's promise he was through driving, light fines totalling $25 were imposed in traffic court. Gordon is 85.

Mr. K Watches As Tito Sees "Total Unity"

VILLENJE, Yugoslavia (AP)—With Soviet Premier Khrushchev looking on from the sidelines, Yugoslav President Tito declared today that Belgrade and Moscow are united on all major world problems.

Tito denounced Red China as undermining world communism and promoting racism and declared: "We shall fight against all those attempts."

He spoke out after Khrushchev accepted honorary membership in the miners' collective of this Slovenian lignite mining centre and donated a miner's uniform to listen to Tito's speech to a crowd of 30,000.

It was Tito's first major public speech since Khrushchev arrived in Yugoslavia on a two-week visit 11 days ago and came two days after he and Khrushchev ended strategy conferences at Belgrade.

Doukhobor Blasts Sons

NELSON (CP)—A Doukhobor said Thursday night that the Sons of Freedom branch of his sect is publicly hungry for political purposes and power.

Kozma Tarasoff of Blaine, Sask., was speaking at a western civilization seminar at Notre Dame University here.

He said there are three divisions of the sect.

"All have tried to attain high ideals but each has failed in some way."

He gave these divisions: Orthodox—Reject voting; cling to communal living ideals; vegetarian diet; Russian language.

Independent—Against spiritual leadership; believe in a democratic structure and voting; pacifist; reject vegetarianism.

Sons of Freedom—Close to orthodox in some respects; some strip, others against it; have migration aspirations; publicly hungry for political purposes and power.

The Sons of Freedom have been blamed for much trouble in the B.C. Interior over the years. Much of the sect now has migrated to near Mountain Prison near Agassiz, 60 miles east of Vancouver, where many of their number of imprisoned for acts of violence.

Dr. James M. Rollins of the University of Saskatchewan sociology department said it is not strange that a minority group in society has three or four conflicting groups.

Soviet Betrayal Seen By Peking

PEKING (Reuters)—The People's Daily charged today that Soviet leaders would stop at no betrayal in order "to carry on their general line of capitulation and beg United States imperialism for peace."

The main Chinese Communist party newspaper, resuming the anti-Soviet campaign with new intensity and bitterness after a week-long lull, made the charge in an editorial protesting against the signing of the Moscow partial nuclear test ban treaty by Nationalist China.

It said this was "another iron-clad proof that, in order to meet the needs of the 'two Chinas' scheme engineered by U.S. imperialism, the Soviet leaders do not hesitate to betray their ally and the interests of the Socialist camp and of the world's people."

The editorial said Soviet leaders had betrayed their former "correct" position on the Formosa issue just as they had sold out the interests of east Germany over the test ban treaty, which China opposes as a "dirty fraud."

Marine Pilot Dies In Unlucky Airfield

WILLOW GROVE, Pa. (AP)—For the third time this year a jet airplane has crashed while trying to land at Willow Grove Naval Air Station. The last occurred in nearby Springfield House and killed the pilot and sole occupant of the T-33 basic training plane, Marine Maj. Charles E. Kiser, 33, of Springfield, Va.

Minister Bares New Trade Deal By Canada, China

MITCHELL SHARP plan revealed

Limit Of $7 Million Set On "Sensitive" Goods Sale

OTTAWA (CP)—A detailed trade deal with Communist China under which a maximum $7,000,000 yearly of "sensitive" Red Chinese goods may enter Canada was outlined today by Trade Minister Sharp.

It is part of the arrangement under which Canada recently signed a three-year wheat agreement with Red China state trading organizations.

Mr. Sharp said the agreement will provide for wheat sales of between $215,000,000 and $360,000,000 during the next three years.

When the minister announced the wheat sale Aug. 2, he told the Commons it was in Canada's interest to give Red China a chance to expand its trade in Canada "subject to appropriate safeguards to avoid markets disruption and damage to Canadian producers."

LIMIT TEXTILES

His statement today gave details of the safeguards that were worked out. They amount to Chinese agreements to limit exports to Canada of some 30 sensitive products—mostly textiles—to a maximum $7,000,000 a year.

Last year, total Communist Chinese sales to Canada reached $4,520,000, including some $1,500,000 in the sensitive goods covered by the new agreement. Canadian exports to Red China hit $147,430,000—almost entirely grain.

This leaves something over $3,000,000 in Chinese sales to Canada not covered by quotas. Among the main items in this field last year were walnuts, peanuts and furs.

Five Children Die In Fire

TAWATINAW, Alta. (CP)—Five children perished today when fire raced through their parents' farm home near this community 70 miles north of Edmonton.

The children's mother, Mrs. Delbert Dunkley, was milking cows when the fire broke out and Mr. Dunkley was away working.

Dead are: Kathy, eight months; Roger, 3; Rita, 4; Donna, 5; and Gail, 7. The couple have no other children.

Police said Mrs. Dunkley started a fire in the wood stove in the kitchen at 7 a.m. and 15 minutes later went out to do the barnyard chores. Three-year-old Roger was awake when she left the house.

She and police that 15 minutes later she saw smoke billowing from the house and heard the children screaming. She tried to enter the house but smoke and flames drove her back.

She was later taken to the Westlock, Alta., hospital about 15 miles away.

Her husband was notified and returned to the farm. Police have recovered the bodies.

STOP-PRESS

Ex-Dean Jailed

NEW YORK (AP)—James M. Landis, former dean of the Harvard Law School, was sentenced today to 30 days in prison on income tax charges.

Federal district Judge Sylvester J. Ryan ordered that the term be served immediately.

Eggs Thrown

FOLCROFT, Pa. (AP)—State police and four white ministers were pelted with eggs and stones and two persons were arrested today as violence flared briefly among a crowd of 200, many of them children, who milled around a home in an all-white neighborhood awaiting the arrival of a Negro family that bought it.

JFK Appeals
HAYANNISPORT, Mass. (AP)—President Kennedy appealed today for restoration of foreign aid funds slashed by the U.S. House of Representatives, saying "freedom does not come easily or cheaply" and the full program is needed at a time of "very intense" peaceful co-existence.

Hanna Must Go

OTTAWA (CP)—Christian George Hanna, who pulled off one of the biggest bores in Canadian immigration history by living in Canada for 18 months as a man without a country, has lost his second bid to stay in Canada. The Immigration department's appeal board has turned down an application by the swarthy 20-year-old laborer to appeal against a deportation order handed down Aug. 12.

Prompt Request From Japan Seen For Increase In Quota Agreement

The new quotas worked out with Red China are expected to bring prompt requests from Japan for increases in the quotas agreed to by Japan on its sales to Canada.

Japan, which ranks as Canada's third-largest wheat customer after Britain and China, has for several years agreed to quotas on wheat, variety of its textile and other exports.

FEARS LOSS

In agreeing to this year's quotas, Japanese Ambassador Nobuhiko Ushiba said last June that Japan wanted to avoid a situation where other countries were able to increase their sales to Canada of goods which Japan was controlling.

The Canadian-Japanese ministerial committee meets in Ottawa this fall, and the subject is almost certain to be raised then.

In general, the quotas adopted by the Communist Chinese trading corporations are only a fraction of the Japanese quotas on similar goods.

Mr. Sharp's statement said separate limits were established for some 30 trade items "to ensure that Chinese sales would not be concentrated in any particular sector of trade."

Besides textiles, the quotas include plywood, table footwear, rubber footwear, polyester buttons, metal friction toys, flashlights, vacuum flasks, sewing machines and paint brushes.

Four BC Political Parties Gird Up In Fight For Votes

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
British Columbia's political parties have started nominating for the Sept. 30 provincial election.

By nomination day Sept. 16 the four major parties hope to have candidates in each of the 32 seats at stake.

Tom Berger, former member of Parliament, and Paddy Neale, secretary of the Vancouver Labor Council (CLC), were nominated in Vancouver Burrard.

Thursday night by the New Democratic Party, Fred Williams, provincial president and candidate in 1960, was defeated by Mr. Neale by one vote.

The seat has been held since 1952 by Health Minister Martin and Bert Price, Social Credit party whip in the House. They were re-nominated Thursday.

ON THE PRAIRIES

College Plans Needs Debate

REGINA (CP)—Further negotiations on sharing for construction costs for a veterinary college at the University of Saskatchewan will be necessary, provincial treasurer J. H. Brockbank said Thursday. The Saskatchewan government has set aside $1,000,000 for the college with the provision other Western provinces agree.

CONCERN VOICED
EDMONTON (CP)—The Alberta government is concerned about a steady increase in illegitimate births in the province. L. C. Halmrast, minister of public welfare, said Thursday there had been 1,144 births out of wedlock to the end of May this year compared with 2,430 in all of 1962.

FARMER KILLED
TOGO, Sask. (CP)—District farmer William Malashewsky, 46, was killed Thursday night when the truck in which he was a passenger left the road and rolled over in a ditch near here. Two other district residents, driver Nick Koozekan and Walter Krulke, another passenger, suffered minor injuries. Togo is 145 miles northeast of Regina.

Mr. Berger, former president of the provincial NDP, is former MP for the federal riding of Vancouver Burrard.

Dan Murray, publisher of the Alaska Highway News at Fort St. John, was nominated Liberal candidate for North Peace.

Mr. Murray's father was MP in the area from 1952 to 1956. His mother is publisher of a weekly newspaper in Lillooet.

Jack Huhn was Social Credit MLA for North Peace in the last legislature.

Marshall Bauder and Ron Fairclough were nominated to contest Burrard for the Liberal party. Gordon Dowding and Cedric Cox represented the constituency in the last legislature.

Dr. W. O. Green of Cranbrook was nominated Progressive Conservative candidate in Cranbrook constituency at a meeting in Kimberley.

Leo Nimick of the NDP represented the seat in the last House.

CANADA'S GUEST

Haile Selassie, emperor of Ethiopia, will pay a state visit to Ottawa Oct. 11-12. Prime Minister Pearson has announced. The emperor will be the guest of Governor-General and Mrs. Vanier at Rideau Hall. A detailed itinerary for the visit will be announced later.

FINLAND DISPUTE

Finland's Premier Ahti Karjalainen handed in the resignation of his coalition government today to President Urho Kekkonen, above, after a cabinet dispute over a disagreement on proposed prices increase. Kekkonen accepted the resignation but asked Karjalainen to keep his government in office until a new administration is formed. Karjalainen agreed.

CRANK PHONE CALLS LINK

"Similar" Killings Probed

NEW YORK (AP)—New York police have conferred with police in Cambridge, Mass., on the similarities in the stabbing deaths of two girls in a New York apartment and the death of Beverly Samans in her Cambridge apartment last May.

One of the girls found dead here Wednesday night was Emily Hoffer, 22, who recently lived in Cambridge, not far from where the 28-year-old Miss Samans was killed.

The other victim here was Janice Wylie, daughter of writer Max Wylie and niece of author Philip Wylie.

Police noted these similarities in the three girls' deaths: All were killed with kitchen knives; none had been sexually assaulted; medical examiners said all were the work of a maniac; all were stabbed so many times an exact count of the wounds was not possible; all were bound; Miss Samans and Miss Wylie were naked, and both Miss Samans and one of the New York girls had received obscene telephone calls from an unknown man before they were slain.

Police today apparently had no solid clues in the stabbings of Miss Hoffer and Miss Wylie, pretty blonde researcher for Newsweek magazine.

Miss Wylie's father who found the bodies said he thought the caller was "maybe a crazy kid who saw a pretty pair of legs."

Wylie, brother of author Philip Wylie, said Thursday he knew of two crank phone calls to his daughter, the last one about 10 days ago, and his wife thought there were three.

Miss Wylie and Miss Hoffer, daughter of Dr. Henry E. Hoffer, a surgeon in Minneapolis, shared the apartment in a fashionable Manhattan east side neighborhood with Patricia Tolles, 21.

The murder weapons, three carving knives belonging to Tolles, were found in the apartment.

Miss Hoffer had been scheduled to start work as an English teacher in Valley Stream, N.Y., next week.

Rescuer To Be Lowered Down For Close Look In Death Mine

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP)—A man will be lowered today down the escape hole from where trapped miners David Felin and Henry Thorne were rescued Tuesday to see whether Louis Dova is in the same cavern 308 feet under ground. H. B. Charnbury, state secretary of mines, announced.

Charnbury said the decision to send down a man was made after a television camera lowered into the chamber showed "what appears to be a man's body."

"The plans are in motion and someone has been chosen," he said, adding the identity of the man—a "pretty husky boy"—would be kept secret for the present.

Charnbury said he hoped the descent down the 17½-inch-wide shaft would be made this afternoon.

In answer to other questions, Charnbury repeated that he saw "what I thought were definitely boots."

Charnbury said "I have seen enough to think someone should go down and take a closer look."

Nehru Fills Cabinet Posts With 3 Portfolio Holders

NEW DELHI, India (Reuters)—Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru today filled three of the six key posts in his cabinet, vacated by ministers going into party reorganization work. Those appointed were Finance Minister T. T. Krishnamachari, Home Affairs Minister Gulzarilal Nanda and Food and Agriculture Minister Swaran Singh. The three new cabinet members were expected to take over their portfolios Saturday but it was not clear whether they will continue to hold their old portfolios. Krishnamachari is also economic and defence co-ordination minister, Nanda is labor and planning minister, and Singh is railroad minister. It was also announced President Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan has officially accepted the six resignations, which constituted the biggest cabinet shuffle since India became independent in 1947. Four of the outgoing ministers now are members of the powerful parliamentary board of the ruling Congress party which will have the main responsibility for cleaning up the party and putting an end to factionalism in its ranks. The four are Morarji Desai, Lal Bahadur Shastri, S. K. Paul, and Jagjivan Ram. Desai was formerly finance minister, Shastri was home affairs minister, Paul was agriculture and food minister, and Ram was transport and communications minister. B. Gopala Reddi, information and broadcasting minister, and K. L. Shrinani, education minister, are the others who resigned. Krishnamachari was also expected to assume planning responsibilities which would make him virtually India's "economic czar." Mohammed Ali Jinnah Chagla, 62, was expected to become law minister, a move to strengthen cabinet representation for 47,000,000 Moslems. He has just returned from being India's high commissioner in London.

Tribute Paid Canadian VC

OTTAWA (CP)—The valor of a Canadian soldier who won the Victoria Cross in 1945 was remembered in ceremonies in Germany and Holland Wednesday by a contingent of the Queen's Own Rifles of Canada. Sgt. Aubrey Cosens, from Port Huron, Ontario, was killed in the fight on Feb. 26, 1945, for which he was awarded the Victoria Cross. The army said today that a group of the Queen's Own Rifles headed by Lieut. John Sharpe of Weyburn, Sask., placed a bronze plaque on the wall of a farmhouse where the 23-year-old sergeant began his battle. The spot is about one mile north of Keppeln, Germany, near The Netherlands border. Sgt. Cosens, with four surviving platoon and the support of a Sherman tank, ejected two enemy platoons from three heavily-fortified buildings. He himself killed at least 20 men and took another 20 prisoners before he was killed by an enemy sniper.

Hunted Man Goes To Police

NEW YORK (AP)—A manhunt for the killers of two New Jersey policemen ended as the last of two fugitives gave himself up. His accomplice had been cornered earlier in a midtown hotel and slain. Thomas (Rabbi Tom) Trantino, 27, walked into a police station with a woman lawyer and surrendered. He had arranged to give up in a rendezvous with an Associated Press reporter and photographer. Trantino met reporter Tony Alborelli and photographer Ray Howard in a tavern. He told them he had been afraid as long as his accomplice, Frank Falco, 25, was at large, but that now he "wanted to get it off his chest." The tattooed Falco was shot down early Wednesday.

Cuba's Militia Alerted As Invasion Rumors Rife

HAVANA (AP)—Cuba has placed its militia on alert and beefed up artillery and anti-aircraft defenses on its north coast amid widespread reports of a possible new invasion by anti-Castro forces. Sources said Thursday night the alert had been in effect since Monday. The military was understood to be watching particularly for any attack from Nicaragua or other Central American nations which have offered refuge to anti-Castro exiles. In San Jose, Costa Rica, reports circulated of unusual activity among Cuban exiles in Costa Rica and Nicaragua. Manuel Artimo, a refugee leader who participated in the abortive Bay of Pigs invasion in April, 1961, arrived in Managua, Nicaragua, to confer with anti-Castro exiles, sources said. The Cuban command apparently braced for a repetition of a recent series of hit-and-run raids. The last occurred Aug. 19 at a metal plant on the north coast where there are many oil refineries and factories. The Cuban government has accused the United States of being directly responsible for the raids. A spokesman for a Cuban exile group called Mambres in Guatemala City his organization made the Aug. 19 raid. He said the commandos operated from secret bases in the Caribbean and from inside Cuba. Cuban refugees arriving in Florida have reported Soviet troop activity in the Cuban capital. They said bridges and strategic points around Havana have been taken over by Russian soldiers, causing some apprehension among Fidel Castro's forces. Claudio Lopez Vargas, an exile who arrived in Florida last week aboard a small boat with six others, said militia and security agents have arrested more than 8,000 persons in Havana and sent them to forced labor camps. He said the arrests are being made in line with a government campaign against those refusing to work.

VANCOUVER (CP)—United States labor leader Walter Reuther will be one of the main speakers at the annual convention of the International Woodworkers of America (IWO) western region, here Sept. 16-20. Reuther is president of the United Automobile Workers and vice-president of the AFL-CIO.

NEW SYSTEM TRIED

VANCOUVER (CP)—Police are experimenting with a system whereby motorists will pay $6 and not the customary $11 to rescue their impounded cars. Under the scheme, drivers would pay only the $6 towing and storage charges and not the usual $5 fine.

SCHOLARSHIPS SET

VANCOUVER (CP)—Provincial government scholarships will go to 450 high school students who received marks of 80 per cent or more in government exams written last June. The scholarships amount to one half of first-year tuition fees at University of B.C., Victoria University of British Columbia.

New Anglo-French Airliner Expected To Clip U.S. Wings

ABERDEEN, Scotland (AP)—A British aviation expert said today he expects the superconcord Concord airliner to grab a large share of the U.S.-dominated big-jet market toward the end of the 1960s. The 1,450-mile-an-hour Concord now is being built with British and French firms sharing the £150,000,000 ($450,000,000) development costs. It would be the world's first supersonic airliner. Dr. Stanley Hooker, technical director of Bristol Siddeley Engines, told the British Association for the Advancement of Science he believes the Concord has an exciting future. "Today there are more than 500 Boeing 707 and Douglas DC-8 jet airliners in operation. They will hold the first line position in air transport for a decade but must be expected to become obsolete and worn out in the late 1960s." Hooker said he believed the Concord will gain a large share of the potential market which would then arise "if the joint plans and developments now going ahead between the British and the French are pursued with energy." More than 3,400 delegates are attending the conference including 400 from overseas.

Probe On Canadian Taxes Ends With Final Complaint

WINNIPEG (CP)—The royal commission on taxation completed its regional hearings ahead of schedule here today by receiving another complaint against the alleged tax discrimination in favor of co-operatives. "Astounding tax concessions," said the Manitoba division of the Retail Merchants Association of Canada. The six-member royal commission, led by accountant Kenneth Carter of Toronto, had originally planned Winnipeg hearings for all of this week. But there were fewer submissions than scheduled. Hearings resume in Ottawa Oct. 3. The blast against the tax structure on co-ops by the retail association, was similar to the criticism levelled by other provincial divisions of the association. It was "an extreme

Bolivia Strike Comes Unstruck

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP)—The general strike ordered by the Central Workers Union to back tin mine workers appeared today to have failed. A few unemployed workers stayed away from their jobs but all stores and business houses were open and there was no sign the strike had even slowed activity.

Bennett Said "Not Capable" Of Keeping Word

VANCOUVER (CP)—Liberal leader Ray Bennett said Thursday night Premier Bennett is "utterly incapable of keeping his word."

He said during a nomination meeting in suburban Burnaby the premier said many times that there would be no election in 1963.

The premier had denounced those who predicted there would be one but then had called one for Sept. 30.

"He has demonstrated his utter lack of reliability," Mr. Bennett said. "He is utterly incapable of keeping his word."

Receipts of his speech were released to the press.

Mr. Bennett spoke after Marshall Bailey and Ron Fairclough were nominated to contest Burnaby constituency represented in the last legislature by Gordon Dowding and Cedric Cox.

He said that Mr. Bennett said he needs a mandate for his two-year power policy. But Lands and Forests Minister Williams had said at the last session that the Peace River project was beyond the point of return.

If this was many governments elected next month would have a public duty to complete the Peace project on a sound and economical basis.

The Liberal party had been the foremost proponents of the early development of the Columbia.

He described as a phony issue Mr. Bennett's statement that he needs a new mandate before Dominion-provincial talks open later this year.

Confederation did not depend on Social Credit or any other party or personality.

Court Stays Libel Payment

ATLANTA (AP)—A federal judge stayed execution of a $10,000 libel judgment for Wally Butts today pending motions for a new trial and a judgment for Curtis Publishing Co. U.S. District Judge Lewis Morgan issued the stay and in his order indicated the publishing firm would file its motion by Friday. Lawyers for Butts had not indicated earlier what legal route they would pursue after a Federal Court jury awarded Butts the verdict because of a Saturday Evening Post article which charged him with fixing a football game. One of the motions will ask a new trial and the other will seek a judgment from Morgan for Curtis. The judgment for Butts was the second largest ever awarded in a libel action.

Periodically over the years there is an argument about the direction in which bath water spirals as it flows down the drain. The argument is one of long-standing and this newspaper has participated in it more than once.

There are those who maintain that bath water tends to swirl counterclockwise in the Northern Hemisphere and clockwise in the Southern due to the earth's rotation. We, if we remember correctly, belonged to the other school. Certainly we remember well getting something approaching back because we used up all the hot water experimenting.

Now, alas! the question would seem to have been solved. The debate broke out in the New England states recently and the Christian Science Monitor which is published in Boston went to the trouble of consulting Professor Ascher H. Shapiro of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology on the subject. Presumably he's an authority, for the Monitor accepted his verdict without question.

Those who maintain that bath water tends to swirl counterclockwise in this hemisphere, alas! are basically right it seems. But still there is a hollow victory. Even the professor hedges a little.

He says the forces of friction and turbulence in ordinary sinks and bathtubs overwhelm the minute influence of the earth's spinning. The direction of swirling drainwater, he finds, seems to vary in an unpredictable manner under household conditions. But under carefully controlled laboratory conditions that suppress the influence of the more powerful forces, the turning force of the earth's rotation — over a million times weaker than gravity — will make itself evident.

How does he know? While other scientists have been wasting their time perfecting ballistic missiles, space capsules, nuclear submarines and what-not, Prof. Shapiro has been studying vorticity. He has demonstrated the effects of the earth's rotation on drainwater many times with equipment built for an educational film he is preparing, and thus procured himself a niche in the hall of fame without putting the taxpayers to any burdensome expense.

And, as the Monitor says, he has diplomatically resolved this ancient puzzle in a way that leaves both sides of the argument with some glory. It wonders, nevertheless, who is to be praised the more—those who stayed with their realization that basic physical force must be operating in spite of no direct evidence, or those who stood by their own observation that no preferred direction of swirl could be seen regardless of what the theorists claimed.

(And now to go home and experiment to see if the professor is REALLY right.)

"I'LL GET IT STARTED YET"

Leisurely U.S. College Life Goes Way Of Charleston

NEW YORK (AP)—The leisurely academic life at college in the United States is going the way of the raccoon coat, the Charleston, and bathtub gin.

It is harder to get into college, and harder to stay there, than it was just a generation ago. There is more to learn, more who want to learn it, and no place for the laggard.

In an effort to cope with the swelling horde of high school graduates seeking a higher education, many American colleges and universities are turning to various forms of a year-round program.

One which seems to be catching on generally is the trimester, sometimes referred to as the "trimester."

By any name it is a speed-up, and when it comes in, something wonderful—the art of learning leisurely—goes out of college.

Instead of the traditional two semesters of 16-18 weeks, with a long summer vacation, the trimester plan has three terms of 14-15 weeks, with a one-month break in late summer.

A student attending eight consecutive trimesters can graduate in two years and eight months, instead of the usual three years and nine months.

HAS ADVANTAGES
The advantages of the trimester are obvious, and difficult to debate.

—A college on the trimester plan can accommodate 30 per cent or more students with no more classrooms and with only a modest increase in staff.

With U.S. college enrollments jumping from 4,000,000 now to 8,000,000 in 1970, this program may be the only salvation for hard-pressed state-operated institutions.

—Students can cut years off the time they normally would spend preparing themselves for a career. This particularly is true of the growing number who go on to professional or graduate school.

—The traditional long summer vacation is a throw-back to the day when young people were needed at home on the farm in summer, and that day has long since passed.

The keynote of the trimester is efficiency. And there, perhaps, is its greatest drawback.

There is limited space on the educational assembly line for mind-sharpening, bull sessions, for browsing in the library and reading for pleasure, for meditation, and absorbing that which is being learned, for attending plays and concerts, and for just plain riverbank cogitation on the state of the world and its complex problems.

Says Ross R. Ogelsby, dean of students at Florida State University:

"The trimester robs students of many things, but what they miss most of all is 'thinking time.'"

The University of Pittsburgh pioneered the trimester plan in September, 1960, and it now is an accepted way of academic life there. All four of Florida's state universities went on the program last fall, as did Jacksonville (Fla.) University, a private institution.

Other colleges on the trimester include such diverse institutions as California (Pa.) State College, Chicago Teachers College, Fort Lewis A. and M. (Colo.), Parsons (Iowa), and Harper (N.Y.).

The University of Michigan will join the trimester corps this September. The University of California, the world's largest institution of higher education, and Ohio State University are giving the three-term plan serious thought.

Chinese Wait In Tibet

NEW DELHI (AP)—In Tibet, behind the barrier of the Himalayas, Chinese soldiers take their political training, build up their positions and wait for marching orders that may or may not come.

To the west and south, a few miles away, Indians in olive green cautiously patrol Himalayan land that is largely claimed by Peking. The Indians have orders not to provoke a fight or protest in the simmering dispute over what constitutes the India-China border.

It looks to be a stalemate but the outlook is that the Chinese can overrun large parts of India's border territory at will.

Military observers in New Delhi do not agree on how many soldiers the Chinese army has in Tibet. Estimates range from 100,000 to more than 300,000. Some experts even question Prime Minister Nehru's recent warning to Parliament that Chinese forces on the border are larger than they were last fall.

Nehru told of Chinese barracks, storage dumps, gun emplacements and airfields built in recent months near the Indian border.

Dear Dr. Molner: Can anything be done to change one's tone of voice? I mean the actual pitch. My harsh accent is no help. When I find it necessary to yell at my daughter when she is being naughty, or simply in the course of an argument, my voice becomes "whiny" and I find it almost impossible to modulate. I realize that self-control is important but it can be difficult sometimes. I know my husband sometimes finds this unbearable.—MRS. T.D.

Don't expect medicine to turn your twang into dulcet tones. And don't expect somebody to provide you with a "double dip" of self-control. That you must learn for yourself.

However, professional voice training can help you, and in a short time. A little coaching in how to breathe and how to avoid "talking through your nose," can do a lot of good.

Never take a chance on diabetes! For better understanding of this disease write to Dr. Molner in care of this newspaper for a copy of the booklet, "Diabetes—The Sneaky Disease." Please enclose a long, self-addressed envelope and 30 cents in coin to cover the cost of handling.

OTTAWA REPORT

New Wheat Strain Has Huge Output

By PATRICK MCDONALD

Will wheat-farming become unprofitable in Canada?

A small patch of a strange-looking wheat has been noticed by visitors to the Dominion Experimental Farm here in the heart of Ottawa this summer.

Tucked away among the plots of experimental barley, this dumpy heavy-laden crop has been seen ripening. It has a short stalk, tough enough to carry the immense weight of leathery ears which sprout from it.

This is Gains wheat, a winter-sown variety which, under heavy fertilization, has achieved the staggering yield of 155 bushels to the acre, nearly eight times the Canadian average yield.

Our farmlands are capable of feeding many more families than our own population; our unfarmed lands could support many millions of families now half-starved in other parts of the world. But our famous prairie strains of wheat, some ripened and harvested within the "hundred days," may not be competitive in the world of tomorrow.

Canada's farmlands have in the latest 5-year period yielded an average of 20 1/2 bushels of wheat to the acre. Gains wheat is reported to run to a cornucopia of 155 bushels to the acre.

HATES THE WINTER
But this bountiful Gains strain is not suited to Canadian conditions. It has done well in Ottawa this summer possibly only because we had an abnormal winter, with lots of snow but no severe frosts. But there are wheat-growing areas of the world where Gains could prove immensely successful. Here in Canada its qualities give it potential worth as a parent stock.

Crossed with harder varieties, Gains may help us to achieve a short-stalked variety able to sustain the burden of the larger number of ears produced by heavy fertilization, but this could take ten or twelve years. Gains wheat has been planted experimentally in southern Alberta, and also in the State of Washington. It is not yet being sold commercially even as seed. It yields a soft kernel, not suitable for bread but excellent for cookies and pastries.

The spectre of a high-yield wheat harvested in other countries would menace our farmers—unless a similar wheat could be grown in Canada.

Spring-sown wheat has not been predominant in terms of dollars and cents in our economy, but it has played an invaluable part in the settlement of huge tracts of land. It was literally the staff of life to the men in sheepskin coats who peopled our prairies, broke the prairie lands, and converted them into the breadbasket for tens of millions of people.

MUST FEED THE HUNGRY
Our average picture in the most recent five-year period is 22 million acres planted with wheat, yielding an average of 20 1/2 bushels to the acre, for a total harvest of 450 million bushels. This Canadian production is slightly less than that of India, which is half that of U.S.A., which in turn is one-third that of Russia. Our domestic consumption is one-third of our average crop, or 8 bushels per person.

At that level of consumption, Red China alone could use ten times our total crop. So there is an ample potential world market for a high-yielding wheat.

But how could our present wheat compete with a high yield, which might bring the world price down to 50 cents per bushel, or less?

Our farmers, now selling wheat for around $2 per bushel, would no longer be kept in the standards to which they have grown accustomed.

That is why I ask: Will wheat-farming become unprofitable in Canada?

Molotov Not Now An Honored Guest

MOSCOW (AP)—A short man with grey eyes and a black moustache got out of a big car at Berlin's Reich Chancellery in 1940 and was whisked into an important conference with Adolf Hitler.

This honored guest of the German Reich was Vyacheslav Molotov, Soviet foreign minister and right-hand man of Stalin.

Where is he today? On extremely rare occasions, he can be seen strolling with his wife in a park, not noticed, not wanting to be noticed. Vyacheslav Molotov is nobody's honored guest.

That happens to those who lose out in the Soviet Union. Molotov, now 72 and his moustache turned almost white, lost out in one of the most dramatic struggles of Soviet history.

In 1937, four years after Stalin died, he made the mistake of trying to drive out of power a rising man named Nikita Khrushchev.

He and several of his associates — Bulganin, Kaganovich, Malenkov and Shepilov — all top party and government people, went out with him. They hardly have been heard of since except occasionally when they are denounced for their alleged part in the thousands of murders committed in the Stalin period.

For a while, it seemed that for this man who once helped shape the government and foreign policy of the Soviet Union, something better was in store. He was made Soviet ambassador in Mongolia. Later he was transferred to Vienna as representative to an international committee dealing with peaceful uses of atomic energy.

It was a soft spot, but a ladder for a man who had traded cold stares and colder words with the greats of the world — Eisenhower, Truman, Churchill, Ernest Bevin, Dulles, Gen. Marshall.

How humble his status truly was appeared in 1961 when Khrushchev met President Kennedy in Vienna. There was a great lineup of Russians as the train came in from Moscow. At the head of the line were personalities of the Austrian government, the Soviet ambassador and embassy personnel.

Far down the line, among the junior clerks, stood the strangely withered little man whose cold "nyet" played a major role in driving Western nations into a defensive alliance against communism.

In October, four months later, Khrushchev felt the old Stalin group, of which Molotov had been foremost, needed another going over in a revived attack on the "cult of personality."

In the 22nd congress of the Soviet Party, Molotov and his whole list were denounced again.

At the time of the 1961 party congress, Molotov still was in Vienna. In November, a month after the congress closed, he returned to Moscow by train. The only officials to meet him were the secret police. But his daughter came, and led him and Mrs. Molotov to a car.

They walked down a carpeted corridor, surrounded by Western newspapermen. There were no Soviet reporters present.

A year ago Western reporters discovered he was in a hospital with grippe. Not a word of it was in the Soviet press.

Last summer he showed up to cast his vote in the same voting station as Khrushchev. They didn't meet.

Negro Cause Advanced

On Wednesday two hundred thousand persons, negro and white, participated in the "march on Washington" organized to effectively demonstrate the negro's desire for equality, jobs and freedom. The march was effective; it was conducted in a dignified manner and, surprisingly without any untoward incident of any kind.

There have been marches on Washington before. Perhaps the first was that of "General" Cossy and his agitators near the turn of the century. On that occasion what looked in prospect like a serious menace to public safety resolved itself into a farce.

None of the other marches could compare in size with that of Wednesday. The very size of the march presented highly unusual problems for the government, both local and national. The complex logistical and delicate human problems posed by nearly a quarter of a million new people being suddenly dumped on the city streets were apparently handled effectively and efficiently.

The march was intended to demonstrate that the colored people of the United States, numbering around 20 million, are united as one man in their demand for equality of education, better jobs at better pay, improved housing and equal civil rights.

Groups from all over the United States, small and large, endorsed the march and such white agencies as the Roman Catholic archdiocese of New York, the Commission on Religion and Race of the National Council of Churches and other Protestant groups, and major segments of labor and other national organizations actively encouraged participation in the march, particularly by white persons.

The significant thing about the march was that it proceeded without any unpleasant incidents. It was natural to expect that under such circumstances and in a highly-charged emotional atmosphere that there would be incidents. The march organization itself took strong steps to ensure the demonstration was peaceful and dignified. The local and national government made provisions for handling any disturbance which might occur.

These joint efforts apparently were sufficiently impressive to persuade any hotheads to reconsider.

Quite to the contrary of what had been expected, the demonstration developed a holiday spirit, the crowds being enthusiastic but good-natured and tolerant. The speakers, while they pulled no punches, did not use a rabble-rousing technique and their attitude was reflected in the attitude of the huge listening crowd.

The march must have left a terrific impact on the government and the whole of the United States. The negroes and their white sympathizers demonstrated that under provocative conditions they could present their case with dignity and tolerance. In this they accomplished much for the negro cause.

Whether or not the march will accomplish the immediate results its leaders hoped is another matter. Its purpose was to impress Congress with the need for action now, but Congress is not yet considering the civil rights bill and probably will not for another two months. Will the effect of the demonstration be worn off by that time? Will Congress be content with half rather than full measures? This time can alone tell, but one fact is certain that whether Congress takes a full step or a faltering step, the final result is inevitable. On Wednesday the negro cause won a significant victory.

NOT EVERYONE HAS VACATION

School students may enjoy the easy living during summer months, but this isn't always so with school maintenance crews or others directly concerned with school projects in preparation for the new school term in September. Photo shows contractors and maintenance men laying a fresh coat of asphalt paving over a portion of the grounds at the Beattie Elementary School on 21st street by the start of the new school term. Best work students will be able to play on the new 4,000 sq. ft. surface area being black-topped.

Deadline Draws Closer For Voting List Check Up

VERNON (Staff) — North Okanagan residents have until 5 p.m. Saturday to see if their names are on the provincial voters' list, if they intend to vote in the Sept. 30 election. Government agent Gordon Forbes, says persons not registered can do so before the deadline. For the convenience of the electorate the registrar's office at the court house will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday. To qualify as a voter persons must have reached the age of 19 years as of Sept. 30, 1963. Frank's General Store, Cherry

Jehovah's Witnesses Head Out For Big California Rally

VERNON (Staff) — Eighty-eight members of the Vernon congregation Jehovah's Witnesses are en route to an eight-day international convention in Pasadena, Calif. Sept. 1 to 8. The religious group will join other delegates at the Rose Bowl from Western Canada, the 50 U.S. states and several foreign countries. Almost every congregation in western Canada will be represented, said presiding Vernon minister Nicholas Popovich. "In most cases the entire congregation will go," he said. "For many of the delegates it will be their first trip to southern California and the members of the Los Angeles and

Tories Conclude Campaign Plans

VERNON (Staff) — North Okanagan Progressive Conservative Association has concluded campaign plans for the Sept. 30 provincial election. Progressive Conservative candidate for this riding is Harold Byatt of Ojama. Campaign manager is Maj. M. V. McGuire. And campaign headquarters will be in the Berry Block, and are expected to open today. The three other parties have set the dates of their nominating meetings. The Liberal candidate will be named Wednesday night at the Ashton Hotel and the Social Credit association will hold its meeting at the Elks Hall, Sept. 19.

Armstrong Birthday Plans Set

ARMSTRONG (Correspondent) — Ann Gordon Gray reported to council on final plans for the city's 50th birthday celebration. Mrs. Jack Parkinson will take a cake for the dinner to be held this cake to be cut by Mrs. Charles Stewart, daughter of the city's first mayor. The candles will be lit by Mrs. W. M. Cook, whose husband was a member of one of the first councils. Prizes are being offered for the two best decorated store windows on the "fifty years ago" theme. As well as for the best oldtime costumes worn by business people.

Vernon will be advised that Armstrong is interested in joining a regional planning board, should one be set up in the area, and would also be willing to send representatives to a meeting when it is called.

Public works chairman was authorized to hire outside help to work on the sewer connection at Hansen Hall, since the regular crew is too busy, and the connection should be done before fair time.

Anyone missing a girl's bicycle, is asked to contact the Armstrong RCMP. A chain saw has also been found after apparently fallen off a truck on Chamberline road.

The free film showing at Memorial Park was cancelled because of rain last Sunday evening.

CLERESTORY LIGHTING PLAN

Living rooms can be lovely and light throughout the day, whether drapes are open or closed, when glass blocks are used in clerestory fashion. Light distributing Shade Green glass blocks are constructed primarily to transmit and diffuse the incoming daylight.

The effect is one of indirect lighting. In addition to this translucent design, glass blocks come in a variety of transparent, colored and ceramic-faced patterns to provide a limitless arrangement of functional decor for every homeowner.

Can you think of anything more annoying than too few outlets? There are so many things to plug in nowadays that a new house and an older house too, should be provided with additional outlets. The booklet "Housing Standards", published by the National Research Council, and prescribed by CMHC for all construction under the NHA, requires a certain number of outlets and duplex convenience outlets for bedrooms, living room and kitchen.

For instance, there's a two-outlet minimum requirement for the kitchen for counter work and one for the refrigerator. But, with the counter outlets permanently in use for an electric clock or a radio, there's not much left for other incidental requirements such as the toaster, coffee percolator and electric kettle, not to mention electric fry pans and other equipment. Rather than sit around in the morning waiting for an outlet to get clear so you can make your toast, consider the convenience of plenty of electrical outlets.

Modern houses have 100 amperes electrical circuits. Domestic circuits usually carry 110 volts and all appliances with the odd exception are designed for this voltage. The increase in the number of electrical appliances and miscellaneous gadgets has placed a heavy load on existing circuits.

In some older houses extensive rewiring is required and constantly needs to be checked in the light of the ever-increasing number of appliances that come on the market each year, generally to stay. Too many houses are destroyed by fire owing to faulty wiring. Do not let this

Gordon Ross, 50, faces charges that on April 17 he attempted to murder by shooting, Const. I. G. Bailey, and by assault with a rock, Const. T. M. Tait. When the accused appeared before Magistrate Frank Smith April 19 he was remanded without plea for psychiatric examination.

Later, notification was received from the attorney-general's office he had been committed to the mental institution by order-in-council.

The incident occurred when police were investigating a complaint that a man was lying on the roadway near the city garbage dump April 17. In the alleged struggle that ensued, police said Ross went after Tait with a rock, and succeeded in taking Bailey's revolver from its holster.

Another first-coming, fast-moving western starring James Stewart and Janet Leigh. The men, and sometimes the women can find something to fight about, either money, mates or nothing.

Second Feature

THE PIT AND THE PENDULUM

If your heart or your nerves are unsteady, steer clear of this one. The scene, a shocking one, composed by Edgar Allan Poe is taken from his popular and scary novel. Vincent Price, John Kerr and Barbara Steel star.

THE MUSIC MAN

Saturday, Monday, Tuesday, August 31, September 2 and 3. This is the blushing hit musical from Broadway, starring Robert Preston, Shirley Jones, Buddy Hackett and Paul Lord. A brash travelling man and a shy librarian make merry music as the whole town watches in tickled anticipation.

The last Sunday midnight show of the season

THE LAST WOMAN ON EARTH

September 1. A girl's dream come true; to be the only female left on earth. But now it has happened, you are the only girl left on earth, a world filled with men, no longer gentlemen, lusty, fighting among themselves and trying to win you, by force or charm. Cast includes Anthony Carbone, Betsy Jones, Moreland and Robert Clark.

Second Feature

HIDEOUTS SUN DEMON

There are days when you wish the sun didn't shine, you roast. But now, from the sun comes a being that seems worse than the heat of the sun has ever been. Now you wish the sun wasn't there, or do you?

RETURN TO PEYTON PLACE

Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, September 4, 5 and 6

When we first went to Peyton Place, we learned it was a town of shocking things. Now we return to find it unchanged, still shocking, still raw, like it was when we left. Cast: Carol Lynley, Eleanor Parker, Jeff Chandler and Tuesday Weld play leading roles.

PARAMOUNT THEATRE

MIRACLE OF THE WHITE STALLIONS

Friday and Saturday, August 30 and 31

This is a stirring Walt Disney tale of a courageous man who risked his life to save Vienna's priceless Lipizzan horses from all destruction near the close of World War II. Robert Taylor, Lilli Palmer play leads with European actor, Curt Jurgens, a man torn between personal friendship and loyalty to a cause he really despises.

THE NUTTY PROFESSOR

Sunday Midnight, September 1

Jerry Lewis in his own screwball way takes a healthy swipe at education as it is practised in a large American university. Playing the role of a tweedy, off-beat Chemistry professor, he leads a quiet life with a secret admirer, portrayed by Stella Stevens but things don't go well for their little love affair until the prof discovers the wonder drug.

THE 300 SPARTANS

Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, September 2, 3 and 4

The story of 300 fighting for their homeland against 5,000,000 fighting for personal glory and the fruits of war. This is the story of the Battle of Thermopylae, the little army of Spartans against the mammoth Persian force. Richard Egan, Sir Ralph Richardson, Barry Corne and Diane Baker head a great cast.

THE LION

Thursday, Friday, Saturday, September 5, 6 and 7

A young girl's love for her pet lion and a desperate triangle of adult love fills out this strange drama filmed entirely on the dark continent. Pamela Franklin, William Holden, Trevor Howard and Capucine have leading roles in this tale of a 12 year old girl and her 350 pound friend, Zamba.

Severe Tests Face Liberals

OTTAWA (CP)—Resumption of the parliamentary session is a full month away but already there are first indications the minority Liberal government will face severe tests of strength.

Opposition spokesmen are talking about hot issues, non-confidence motions and even the possibility of a new election this winter, which would be the third in less than two years.

The nuclear issue, which largely contributed to the downfall of the Diefenbaker government, will be revived by the opposition after the session resumes Sept. 30. Stanley Knowles, NDP whip, said in an interview his party definitely will force a vote on the nuclear warheads agreement concluded by Canada and the United States two weeks ago during the political calm of the parliamentary recess.

The government has said it will not submit the nuclear agreement to Parliament for approval because it is not a treaty.

But the opposition can force a vote on the issue in various ways.

Opposition Leader Diefenbaker told a press conference Thursday that the warheads agreement "placed Canada in subservience to the United States." He said it was rushed through with undue haste at a time when world tensions were relaxing.

Other opposition challenges will come on the government's contentious pension legislation and charges that the Liberals are reviving political patronage.

The Conservatives and New Democrats have been pressing the government to implement immediately its campaign promise to increase universal old age pensions by $10 to $75 a month. The $10 increase has been tied by the government to its contributory pension plan, which will be scrutinized by the provinces at two federal-provincial conferences in September and November before going into the parliamentary mill.

Mr. Knowles warned Wednesday that his party will introduce a non-confidence motion if the $10 increase is delayed further. A similar motion was introduced before the recess by Mr. Diefenbaker, but the vote was put off until the fall because of a procedural dispute.

Opposition MPs are preparing another assault on the patronage issue in the light of charges by the Civil Service Federation that two fisheries department ship's officers were fired because they were Conservative supporters and published reports that the government has lists of defeated Liberal candidates and other supporters who receive special favors from various departments.

The Liberals are six members short of a clear majority in the 265-seat Commons. Standings are Liberals 129, Conservatives 95, Social Credit 23, NDP 17, Independent Social Credit 1.

JOURNEY TO MECCA
JAKARTA (AP)—More than 10,000 Indonesian Moslems have completed pilgrimages to the Moslem shrine of Mecca. Saudi Arabia this year, reports the official Antara news agency. Some 90 per cent of Indonesia's 85,189,000 persons are Moslem.

SAFETY FIRST!

Pretty girls and good boats make life worth living in any water area. Preparing to take a spin in their runabout, these two young women illustrate one of the first rules of water safety: afloat, keep your life preserver or jacket nearby. Life preservers take many shapes and whereas, Red Cross and other safety conscious groups advise that you should wear one, the type held by the woman on the dock is made to do double duty as a cushion. The major point, keep a lifejacket on or near you each time you go boating. Any floating object will aid you if your boat should capsize. Hang on, don't try to swim to safety.

"FOUR SEASONS of FUN in the OKANAGAN SUN"

THE DAILY COURIER, KELOWNA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, FRIDAY, AUG. 30, 1963 — SIXTEENTH EDITION

MRS. TED UPTON, of Okanagan Mission, has spotted interest in Indian pictographs and through her efforts and those of her husband, many have been found in the Okanagan Valley. The above pictograph, taken from one of her drawings, shows pictographs near Naramata. The drawings found on the Parish Ranch in various shades of red, are all found near trails and good camping grounds. They vary in size, with the roughly-circular area ringed by the line in this picture measuring 32 inches across. The man inside the "circle" is 18 1/2 inches high and the turtle over to the right of the picture is 10 inches high.

Early Indian Pictographs Excite Okanagan Historians

Indian Rock Paintings, or pictographs, have recently been exciting many members of the Okanagan Historical Society.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Upton, of Okanagan Mission, have for the past two years been searching for the paintings and are now proud of recording them.

Monty DeMara has assisted with colored pictures of the findings. "In my early childhood I heard many tales of these Indian drawings," said Mrs. Upton, "but it is only in the past two years we have done any exploring to find them."

"They are all most interesting, possibly because no one knows what they mean. The ones we have found in the Okanagan are strikingly similar to others recorded in France, Sweden, Spain, South Africa and in many places in both North and South America."

LOCATIONS

Pictographs have been found near Wilson's Landing, 12 miles north of Kelowna. Nabun, just north of there, at Whiteman Creek, north of Nabun, on the east and west sides of Vancouver Lake, south of Shale Lake, at McKinley Landing, south of Okanagan Centre, south of Gosh-lately Point, north of Naramata on Paradise Ranch and the Big Canyon on the east side of Shale Lake.

"All the ones we have found so far are in rather remote country," said Mrs. Upton, and some of them are accessible only by lake.

"My husband Ted and I have done much of the work alone. I make sketches and measurements and he takes colored slides of the paintings. Then we work out the finished drawing when we get home from the sketches and the slides."

SIZE VARIES

Mrs. Upton said there was no average size. Some of the pictures are very small and some are 18 inches or more in height. Sometimes there will be a dozen individual pictures in one place. The pictographs are always found on rock faces, sheltered by a rock overhang, or on boulders.

The only complete hunting scene ever recorded pictorially, people have been fishing the rock face off presumably to take home mementoes.

"We are most anxious to record these evidences of early Indian work before they are all destroyed," said Mrs. Upton.

PAINT

Tests on the paint indicate it is made from iron ores mixed with animal grease or oil and or resin. It would appear to be applied with a finger, a pad of skin or a stick.

"All the pictographs we have found are near trails, near good camping and apparently depict local animals, important tribal or religious events or records of the hunt.

QUALITY VARIES

"The work appears to be good, although those found in Europe and Africa seem to be of higher standard than those found in North America."

KEREMEOS PICTOGRAPHS

Another drawing of Indian pictographs found in the Okanagan shows an area drawn on a rock near Keremeos Creek. The froglike figure in the top left is 12 inches high and nine inches wide; the snub-nosed figure in the lower left hand corner is 17 inches wide and 16 inches high and what has been called a road between two ranges of hills.

In the lower right hand corner is 23 inches high. The picture is taken from a drawing made by Mrs. Ted Upton of Okanagan Mission. The reproduction does scarce justice to the drawing, for it is drawn in the same shade of red used by the Indians on this particular site. Red does not photograph well.

Typhoon Della Hits Japanese Coasts

TOKYO (AP)—Typhoon Della, packing winds up to 75 miles an hour, skirted Japan's western coast Thursday leaving three persons dead, police said. Della descended the Tokyo area with steady rain in 24 hours, flooding more than 13,000 homes and disrupting train service.

THE LIFE O'RILEY — AND COFFEE TOO!

What could be nicer as the heat of summer is over and the cool mornings bring the fish into bite, than a quiet camp along a body of water. The Okanagan Valley abounds with campsites free for the taking, as well as many sponsored by private and government bodies. Good hot coffee in the early morning is one antidote for sleepiness and as the fisherman prepares the boat for the day's sport, his companion offers the coffee that will hold his inner man together until it is time to return to the campsite for ham and eggs cooked over an open fire. 'Tis the life o' Riley, no less; come to the Okanagan Valley and enjoy your share of it.

INDIAN PICTOGRAPHS . . .

"The variations in the quality is marked, suggesting that human nature hasn't changed much over the centuries," said Mrs. Upton.

Mrs. Upton said the evidence of early pre-Indian civilization is now a matter of anthropological study in the Fraser River Valley and the Columbia River Valley, and some work is starting in the Okanagan.

NO RECORDS
"The modern day Indians we have found, know nothing about the pictographs. They have no records, or any indication of what they might mean or why they were painted," said Mrs. Upton.

"We can visualize North and South America as one vast tourist camp from the Bering Strait to Tierra Del Fuego.

Badly Beaten Body Of Woman Found

BOSTON (AP) — The badly-beaten body of a woman was found late Thursday night in the basement of a south end rooming house. The body was recovered by police who received an anonymous telephone tip that a dead woman could be found in a Tremont Street basement. Police went through 25 buildings before finding the body.

'Quake Recorded North Of Quito

QUITO, Ecuador (AP) — The astronomical observatory here registered an earthquake early Thursday about 1,200 miles northeast of Quito. Strong tremors of short duration were reported in the village of Chimbo. There were no reports of damage or injuries.

JUST BECAUSE ANGLEBURY, Wales (CP) — A man has bought a diamond railway station here for $1,200 ($2,700). When asked what he wanted it for, he replied: "I don't know, but there must be a use for it."

Soviet, Canadian Contacts Increase In Past 6 Months

OTTAWA (CP) — Scientific and technical contacts with Russia, stepped up in 1958, are increasing steadily. The Canadian government remains undecided about whether it wants to go further and sign an agreement with the Soviet Union — as have the United States, West Germany, Britain, France, Italy and Finland.

The last five years are reviewed in the August edition of Soviet Union Today, the slick-paper monthly issued by the U.S.S.R. embassy here. The article expresses the hope that contacts so far will develop into a treaty. Much of the exchange in recent years has occurred under arrangements made between the National Research Council and the Soviet Academy of Sciences. Canada has been pressing for fact-finding access to the Soviet North. So far, these requests have gone unanswered, presumably because of concern about security.

PROJECT HALTED Arrangements were believed near completion two years ago for the dispatch of a team of Canadian Arctic experts but the resumption of nuclear testing by Russia ended the project. Canada and Russia share a frigid region in which Russia has moved farther and faster than this country while benefiting from generally better conditions. Agricultural exchanges probably have exceeded all others so far. One of a number of Soviet farm delegations went home recently. Agriculture Minister Harry Hays had Russia on his itinerary when he left for a Moscow trip abroad. While Canada likes to think that it grows the best hard spring wheat in the world on the Prairie farms, that wheat has descended from Russian varieties in most cases.

RAILWAY INTEREST Others involved in exchanges this year have been or will be railway transport officials and representatives of the chemical and building industries. The Soviet publication says that more than 170 Canadians have visited Russia since 1956 on technical and scientific missions — 32 in 1958 and 71 this year. It says Russian delegations have comprised 100 persons since 1956. These included aircraft designers, steel, paper, Arctic and other authorities. The Canadians included the 1958 power group and Quebec builders and architects last year.

Anonymous Giver Mystifies City

DODGEVILLE, Wis. (AP) — More than 50 residents of this southwestern Wisconsin city (population 2,800) have received from $50 to $100 in cash in envelopes bearing no return address from an unknown benefactor. Sheriff Ray Hesse said no trace of the sender has been found, and there has been no set pattern in the gifts.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By R. JAY BECHTOLD
(Top left: Holder in Masters Individual Championship Play)

Q. U. E. You are the dealer, both sides vulnerable, and have opened One Heart. Partner responds Two Notrump. What would you now bid with each of the following four hands?

1. ♠ 7 5 4 3 2 ♣ 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 7 5 4 3 2 ♣ 8 7 6 5 4 3 2
2. ♠ 7 5 4 3 2 ♣ 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 7 5 4 3 2 ♣ 8 7 6 5 4 3 2
3. ♠ 7 5 4 3 2 ♣ 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 7 5 4 3 2 ♣ 8 7 6 5 4 3 2
4. ♠ 7 5 4 3 2 ♣ 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ 7 5 4 3 2 ♣ 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

1. Three clubs. The three bids to consider are three notrump, three hearts and three clubs. It would not be wise to utilize ally commit the hand to three notrump without first sounding out the possibility of playing a heart contract. Hands with 4-4-3-2 distribution, especially when the high-card values are concentrated in two suits, are not ideal for notrump, and for this reason the raise in notrump is undesirable.

The best alternative bids are three hearts or three clubs, and of these two, the three club bid is better because it draws a more complete picture of the hand. The intention is to pass three notrump if partner bids it, or go on to four hearts if partner bids three hearts over three clubs.

2. Six notrump. This is simply a matter of arithmetic. The two notrump responses show 12 to 15 points, balanced distribution and strength in the unmentioned suits. Since we have 20 points, we are assured of at least 23 points, the magic number for a slam. The hand is suitable for notrump play and a raise to six is therefore clearly indicated.

3. Three notrump. This is by no means an ideal hand for notrump, but the raise to three is nevertheless the best bid available. Hands with singletons are generally best played in a suit, but where the distribution is 4-4-3-2 and there is no major suit game in prospect, it is generally better to undertake nine tricks in notrump than 11 tricks in a minor suit. This is particularly true when the singleton is an honor card.

Suppose we were to bid three clubs or diamonds instead. Then if partner rebids notrump, our minor suit bid turns out to be a wasted call, while if partner rebids three hearts, we would probably still bid three notrump, knowing partner has only three hearts in support of our four-card suit.

The four notrump bid shows 18 or 19 points and a balanced hand. Since partner may have only 12 points, we cannot go to six single-handed, and are consequently forced to consult him in the matter.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW The sun and Mars will combine to make Saturday a highly stimulating day. There's indication of great activity and enterprise in all fields, but it will be very important not to be overly aggressive in dealing with others. If amiable with all, you should get along very well, but forthrightness will get you nowhere.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that, where job and monetary rewards are concerned, the next three months will be somewhat on the negative side. Do not become discouraged, however. December should bring you some pleasant surprises along these lines and, if you consolidate all the gains you make during that period, you should be able to take advantage of really big opportunities, in mid-1960.

There will be stimulating aspects for social and family interests during most of the 12 months ahead, but do try to avoid unnecessary clashes in close circles in mid-November and in March. A determination to curb the Virgoan tendency toward hypercriticism could be the best preventative.

The next two weeks will be excellent for romance; also December, next May, June and July. What may look like the "real thing" in October could prove disappointing, however. Don't count on it.

Looking forward to taking a long journey? Best aspects will occur in mid-1960, but short trips taken between now and Sept. 15, in late December and/or early January could prove highly enjoyable.

While creative workers will have several highly inspiring periods during the coming year, the very best for recognition will occur in December—an all-around good month for all Virgoans—and next June.

A child born on this day will be endowed with a fine mind and strong opinions, but could become unduly embittered when disappointed in others.

De Gaulle Criticizes U.S. And Actions In Viet Nam

President Charles de Gaulle criticized U.S. policies and actions in South Viet Nam by telephone Thursday, and proposed France's "cordial cooperation" to Saigon in shaking off "foreign influences."

J. Patrick Newman, 32, son of George Newman, former Progressive Conservative Finance Minister, Thursday night was nominated to contest suburban North Vancouver for the Conservatives in the Sept. 30 British Columbia election.

William S. Churchill, grandson of Britain's wartime prime minister, and Max Conrad left Gander, Nfld., about 1 a.m. Thursday in a small plane for Oxford, England. The pair had left Boston Tuesday and arrived at Gander late Wednesday.

Premier Bennett said Thursday in Victoria a new round of bargaining over the price which the United States must pay British Columbia for Columbia River downstream benefits will begin in Ottawa Sept. 6.

Mr. Bennett will be featured speaker at the annual convention of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities at Dawson Creek Sept. 12.

Pope Paul VI today addressed an open message to the people of Viet Nam saying he was deeply preoccupied by the situation in the country and urging "re-establishment of mutual fraternal concord."

Advertising's Integration Moves Slowly But Steadily

NEW YORK (AP) — Racial integration of advertisements is moving ahead slowly but steadily in the Northern United States. More and more Negro models are appearing alongside white models.

Recently Mary's, the big New York department store chain, featured five hand-picked youngsters in an ad for children's apparel. One was a Negro and another an Oriental.

While there is strong pressure from the Negro community for greater employment of Negro models, a real impetus comes from a desire by advertisers to reach the Negro market. This market comprises almost 11 per cent of the U.S. population, or 30,000,000 persons, with $19,000,000 in annual purchasing power.

The trend toward use of Negro models is new and the advertising industry is having its problems.

"Many advertisers and agencies don't know how to do it," an industry spokesman said. "A problem is attracting the much attention to the matter. After all, you're selling peanut butter, not integration."

CITES INCREASE

"There is a definite increase in the use of Negro models in general advertising," said Richard Schneider, senior vice-president of the American Association of Advertising Agencies.

"But you have to use them where appropriate and where they will sell products."

New York Mayor Robert Wagner's committee on job advancement has made a strong push for greater employment of Negroes in newspaper, magazine, television and radio advertising. It is seeking to promote employment of Negroes at the executive level as well as models and performers.

The committee recently recommended the Chemical Bank of New York, Manufacturers Hanover Trust Company, Trans World Airline, Bell Telephone System, American Machine and Foundry Company and Consolidated Edison Company for use of Negroes in their advertisements.

The Colgate Palmolive Company, which spends $79,000,000 a year on advertising, will release within the next two weeks several television commercials with a number of Negro models. The ads will be broadcast in a number of cities but not in the South.

New Pattern By Sexes Urged

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Church leaders say a "new pattern of partnership between men and women" is needed.

We are beset by the conflicting ideologies of masculine preeminence and aggressive femininity, said a report by the division of ecumenical action of the World Council of Churches which includes most Protestant and Orthodox denominations.

The study's impulse to rule the road and the women's drive to share turn are blighting relationships between the sexes, the study maintained.

Presented by Dr. Kathleen Egan of Geneva, England, chairman of the division to the council's central committee meeting here today, the report called for social patterns and legislation expressing the "equality of men and women."

DEBATE REDS

A flurry of debate arose Wednesday after an address by Dr. Klaus von Bismarck of Cologne, West Germany. He said churches both in the West and the Communist East sometimes confuse the gospel with state ideologies.

Churchmen from Communist countries challenged this. "The church cannot adopt Communist ideology," insisted Bishop Tibor Bartholy of Debrecen, Hungary.

But he said that in the political-economic realm, Communists in many areas "are doing a splendid job."

Russian Orthodox Archbishop Vitaly Borovoy of Leningrad said: "Even the Communists are frightened at the idea of any such confusion of the two, even if the churches attempted to promote it."

Larger Deficit Said Vital To Aid Canada's Jobless

WINNIPEG (CP) — Professor Charles L. Barber of the University of Manitoba said today the Canadian economy "may well be very difficult for the very little chance of achieving full employment unless the government plans for a larger deficit."

The professor of economics told the royal commission on taxation that Canada needs a "new approach to federal budgeting, bringing it in line with current economic trends. For this year, considering the economic climate in Canada, a bigger deficit might have been more effective."

The budget that should be presented, said Professor Barber, should be detailed in three concepts — the administrative budget, the cash budget and the national accounts budget.

Each phase should be explained in detail, with all borrowing and lending activities, the state of the capital market, and the probable effect of budget proposals on each area of the economy.

"Unless this is done," said Professor Barber, "the government will be very difficult for the very little chance of achieving full employment unless the government plans for a larger deficit."

"As things stand now, even the minister of finance may not have a clearly understood just how this budget is likely to affect the economy."

He said that budget information should be presented to the House on a quarterly basis to seasonal changes could be brought into the picture. All information in the main yearly budget should be presented in terms of quarterly changes, concepts — the administrative budget, the cash budget and the national accounts budget.

It wasn't possible to get a true picture of the economy when figures were being averaged out on a 12-month basis, Professor Barber said it was also of "utmost importance" that the relationship between surplus or deficit in the consolidated accounts and Canada's dependence on foreign capital funds be fully understood.

In the immediate post-war period when Canada had consistent surpluses, the country financed almost all of her capital expenditures out of her own resources. But between 1953 and 1961, when there was steady deficit financing, foreign sources provided 54 per cent of the funds for capital expenditure.

It is clear that if Canadians had been prepared to continue to support a budgetary policy that provided substantial government surpluses throughout the post-war period, Canada could have financed her entire capital spending program out of her own resources.

This would have added "very substantially" to the level of income enjoyed by Canadians.

Roberts Promises Probe Into Land-Grabbing Charge

CORNWALL, Ont. (CP) — Premier Roberts said today allegations of land-grabbing and misuse of his office against Conservative Naido Bracci, described as virtual leader of the small community of White River, Ont., will be investigated.

Refugee Plane "Sabotaged"

FRANCISTOWN, Bechuanaland (Reuters) — A DC-3 airliner that was to have flown 28 escaped South African refugees to Tanganyika was destroyed by explosions and fire at the airport here early today. Police said sabotage was suspected.

The East African Airways plane was almost completely destroyed by the fire which broke out about 2:15 a.m. as it stood parked, empty, near a hangar.

The 28 refugees included Arthur Goldreich and Harold Wolpe, two of the four political prisoners who escaped from the Johannesburg police headquarters Aug. 11. Goldreich, 33, is an artist who designed the sets for the all-African musical King Kong. Wolpe, 26, is a Johannesburg lawyer named by the government as a Communist.

They had been held under South Africa's 90-day "no trial" law until their escape 18 days ago with Moses Moolah, secretary of the Transvaal Indian Congress, and Abdulhay Jassat.

Mr. Bracci has been the provincially-appointed chairman of the improvement district of White River since 1959 and president of the Progressive Conservative association there.

Mr. Wintermeyer said Mr. Bracci is well on his way to owning most of the small railway community of 802 residents, located on the trans-canada highway 200 miles north of Sault Ste. Marie.

Mr. Roberts said he had spoken to Municipal Affairs Minister Spooner who assured him the matter had already been investigated, but each of the allegations would be looked into again.

Mr. Roberts said: "If there has been any wrong - doing heads will roll."

He said previous investigation showed Mr. Bracci — described by Mr. Wintermeyer as the "town chairman, tax collector and revenue dispenser" — had not used his office for any improper purpose.

SCHOOL DISTRICT No. 23 (KELOWNA)

We would once again remind parents, and students of all ages and grades, that students are to report to their respective schools on September 3rd, 1965, as advertised, and are not to go fruit picking.

As in past year, all arrangements have been made with the B.C.F.A., Farm Labour Committee, and the National Employment Service, that if any emergency arises in the fruit industry, the Board, with these organizations, will decide whether students will be released to assist.

Ball Tourney Opens Tonight

The Kelowna Labatts and the Merritt Lumber of the Okanagan Mainline Baseball League will clash head-on tonight in the opening game of the British Columbia senior amateur baseball championships which will be held in Kelowna over the Labor Day weekend.

FIVE TEAMS ENTERED
Five teams representing the major senior baseball leagues in the province will vie for the championship. Representing the OMBL will be the perennial-winning Merritt Lumber and the host club the Kelowna Labatts. Representing the three other leagues will be the Terrace Loggers of the Northern Interior Baseball League; the Victoria Transport Workers from Vancouver Island, 1962 provincial champions who will be defending their title; and the Hasey Hammond of the Dewdney League at the coast.

DOUBLE KNOCKOUT
The tournament will be a double knockout affair with Kelowna and Merritt meeting tonight in the first game; Hasey Hammond will take on the Terrace Loggers in an afternoon game on Saturday, 2:30 p.m.

And the winner of the Kelowna-Merritt game will tangle with Victoria in a game Saturday night.

The tournament calls for three games on Sunday with two or possibly three games on Monday.

All games will be played at Ebbett Stadium.

Sandy Koufax Wins No. 20 Dodgers Trim Giants 11-1

Sandy Koufax won his 20th game of the year Thursday night, throwing a three-hitter as Los Angeles Dodgers defeated San Francisco Giants 11-1 in the first game of a crucial four-game series between the two clubs.

By taking the opener of the series, Dodgers dropped the defending Giants 6 1/2 games back into an almost impossible situation.

If Dodgers win half of their remaining 30 games, Giants must win 21 of 29 to finish in a tie for the pennant.

Dodgers erupted for 15 hits and the most runs they've scored in 43 games.

The Dodgers' explosion followed a seven-game drought in which only 13 runs crossed the plate.

In the third inning before a crowd of 34,778—largest in the majors this season—Dodgers trimmed Giants for five runs.

burgh Pirates 7-4 in the only other game scheduled.

Koufax, bringing his record to 20-3, allowed only a single by Jim Davenport in the first, a runner by Orlando Cepeda in the second and a single by Jose Pagan in the fifth. Pagan who reacted second base on an error was the only Giant besides Cepeda to get that far.

Koufax, lowering his earned run average to 1.83, struck out seven for a league-leading total of 166, and allowed only one walk.

Giants starter Bob Feller lasted into the second inning when Billy Pierce, 3-1, took over. Koufax's four runs tied in with a single in the first.

The Kelowna Labatts captured the provincial crown in 1961 the first time the tournament was held. The Labatts knocked over Victoria in a grueling contest to take the title.

GORDIE HOWE

Howe Signs '63 Contract

DETROIT (AP)—Gordie Howe signed his 10th contract with Detroit Red Wings for a reported $30,000 today.

Howe, winner of the National Hockey League's double crown last season, received a substantial salary increase, general manager-coach Sid Abel announced.

Soccer Date Now Changed

It was announced today by Erwin Mueller, captain of the Kelowna Teamsters soccer team that the game scheduled for September 1 against the Spokane Spokes of Spokane, Washington, has been moved ahead to Saturday, August 31.

This is the first time a United States soccer team has played in Kelowna. The Spokes are of the North Central Western Soccer League.

Spokane will also play an exhibition game with the Vernon National Royals in Vernon Sunday, Sept. 1.

Sportsmanship Costs Brampton Junior Win

VICTORIA (CP)—A fine example of sportsmanship cost Stewart Hamilton of Brampton, Ont., a hole in his match with Victoria's Noel Pumfrey in the semi-final of the Canadian junior golf championships Thursday at Royal Coldwood Golf Club.

It may have cost him a spot in today's final.

As it was, Pumfrey scored a one-up victory over the highly-rated Ontario player and now is in a position to win the first tournament of his golfing career. To do it, he must overcome a cold putter and a hot Wayne Vollmer in the 36-hole final.

Hamilton could have taken the 17th hole in his 18-hole match with Pumfrey on a technicality.

The Brampton youth was in trouble on the hole when his drive hooked into the woods but he managed to score a one-over par.

Pumfrey, a notoriously bad putter, was on the par-four hole in two and drew his first putt within 16 inches of the cup. He required the short putt for a win but it was several inches short.

EVEN THE WATER IS AGED!

How long does it take to make a glacier? Centuries, they say. Rocky Mountain glacial water flows into the ADL distillery, becomes the smooth, fine whiskeys so many people are enjoying.
